ASK ABOUT OUR LOWERED RATE

Recently C., D. & M. Electric Co. announced a voluntary reduction in rates to domestic users. The first part of the reduction will go into effect July 1; and then on January 1, 1937, a still lower rate will complete the reduction. The reduction will mean a savings of about 14 2-7 per cent to the average domestic consumer. Below is listed a schedule of the rates effective January 1, 1937....

INDOOR PLANTING OF SEEDS GETS RESULTS

Later They Are Transplanted to Containers. Then to Open Ground.

A number of flowers with small, fine seeds are aided in their growth and bloom development by surface planting of the seeds indoors followed by a transplanting of the small plant first to larger containers or to a hot bed, and then to the open garden.

Seeds of the lobelia, petunia, Canterbury bell, ice plant, nicotiana, hegonia, portulaca and others are benefited by such treatment.

Four to six weeks before the usual outdoor planting date they may be placed on the surface of light, loamy soil in a small box or flat, dusted over with light soil, wetted down and covered with a butlap bag. The bag may be removed after the seeds have sprouted.

In about two weeks, after the seeds have developed plants large enough to handle, transplant them in pots or other large containers, or to a hot bed. Four to six weeks after the original planting, when garden soil is warm and climate temperate, the plants may be placed in the open.

If this procedure is followed, germination should not only be more certain, but the plant should be larger and produce earlier blooms.

WPA CONDUCTING BARBERRY STUDY

BRYAN, O., May 25—A survey to locate the common barberry is being conducted in Williams county. The shrub is a host plant to rust in wheat. A group of WPA workers under the supervision of a representative of the U. S. D. A. is making the survey.

Some 10 years ago the county was surveyed for this shrub. It is probable that very few of the shrubs remain in the county; however, some rust continues to show up. One shrub could cause considerable damage to surrounding wheat. If farmers see quite a number of young ones scouting through their fields, it will probably be them on the weak.

FARM MACHINERY DISPLAY AT FAIR

Visitors to the 1936 Marion county fair Sept. 22-24, inclusive, will see a large display of farm implements exhibited by manufacturers and their representatives.

The display will occupy its usual position southwest of the grandstand. This department of the exhibit is in charge of John Sauter, a member of the fair board.

BUYING LIMESTONE

Ohio farmers are back in the market for limestone to be applied on acid soils. A report made by the soils department at Ohio State university shows the purchase of 176,163 tons of liming materials in 1935; this is more than a 73,000 ton increase in buying from the 1932 figures.

PRESERVE INCOME FROM SMALL TREES

Many Ohio Timber Owners Sacrifice Future Profits

Many Ohio timber owners are sacrificing future income by permitting the cutting of small trees when the trees which will make lumber are taken out, according to F. W. Dean, specialist in farm forestry, Ohio State university.

The mill owner who cuts the trees which are less than 10 inches in diameter is not able to make any money out of them so these trees are a total loss. The same trees, if left standing, are at the stage when they grow rapidly.

Farmers should make certain that they do not remove all the seed trees from their woods when they sell or cut mature trees. Usually there are only a few yellow poplars, white ash, or other valuable species in a woods, and if all these are taken out at one time, there is no chance for them to be replaced by seedlings.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

DAD'Y SURFACED STYLE SHOWS TREND TO SLIMMER LINES

Here's a find worth holding—a beautiful surfaced style that offers the slightly heavier woman fashion and slimmest at one and the same time. Offers, you, too, an easy pattern with which you may achieve stunning results in double-quick time! You'll want to give three loud cheers (maybe more) for this book—one for its coolness, one for its all-around styling, which makes it a wardrobe standby, and one for its ability to be made up in any one of a dozen flattering fabrics—figured voile, navy sheer with a bit of white ruffling, monotone crepe or synthetic. For a very dressy version—cotton chiffon!

Pattern 4019 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric and 5/8 yard ruffling. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anna Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and state number.

STEEL STOCKS DRAW BUYERS

Other Issues Gain 1 to 2 Points in Spotty Trade on Exchange

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 22.—Steel stocks were scattered today and drew few buyers. The market was generally flat, with some gains in other issues. Steel stocks were down 1 to 2 points in a quiet trade on the exchange.

Down a point or more were General Motors, Ford Motor, and Chrysler. Steel stocks were down 1 to 2 points in a quiet trade on the exchange.

Notwithstanding a two-point decline in the steel index this week, the market felt pointed out that demand was well maintained because of orders from the heavy equipment industries as well as farm machinery.

At Pittsburgh, the price was expressed that the steel output rate would continue to ship until well into July.

COURT TO RULE ON POWER JOBS

Justice To Give Ruling on $200,000,000 Program Financed by PWA.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat, of the District of Columbia supreme court, is expected to rule this week on the constitutionality of one of the new deal's most far-reaching activities—a $200,000,000 public power program financed by the public works administration.

He will hear final arguments Tuesday in an injunction suit brought by four utility companies, which ask an order forbidding PWA to finance 10 municipal electric plants in Alabama, Texas, Oklahoma and Iowa.

Newton D. Baker will present a final plea for the power companies Tuesday. Jerome Frank of the administration legal staff will sum up arguments for the government.

Frank has indicated that he hopes to carry this case to the supreme court for a final hearing on PWA power developments. Virtually all the 35 electric projects approved by PWA have been tied up by injunction proceedings.

The utility lawyers have challenged the PWA power program on three major grounds:

That the 1935 relief act is unconstitutional.

That even if the act is held valid, the power projects do not comply with its terms.

That the power companies will be unfairly injured by government competition.

Alexander Holtzoff, special assistant to the attorney general, answered the first charge with a detailed defense of the 1935 relief act. He argued that it was not an illegal delegation of power, since the possible issue of relief funds were clearly specified.

John W. Scott, government attorney, submitted a report made by Secretary of Interior Ickes to congress, which, he said, contained a complete program of public works.

Acknowledging that the municipal plants would compete with private firms, Scott contended that all

THIRD QUARTER STEEL PRICE LIST AWAITED

Hints of Increases Heard But No Producer Makes Definite Statement.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, May 25.—The magazine Steel said today that announcement of steel prices for the third quarter is expected this week.

"While some spokesmen for the industry have pointed out that the trend must be upward, in view of rising manufacturing costs, social security legislation, and vacations with pay for wage earners, no definite statement was made by any producer regarding next quarter," Steel said.

The publication said the feature of last week in the steel industry was the demand for rail, road cars, car material, and tin plates. The heavy equipment industry, farm tools and tractors and machine tool and allied equipment manufacturers gave evidence of sustained demand while automotive requirements were down slightly, Steel said.

Steel's scrap composite was lowered 25 cents to $13.15.

For studying constellations a Chicago astronomer has invented a device with which a person views an illuminated diagram of a star group with one eye while viewing the stars themselves with the other.

20 cities had decided to build their own power systems long before PWA was established.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

THESE MODERN LOVERS

In these days of cigarette, cocktail and scented lipsticks a quaint, old-fashioned man is one who can recall the delight of a kiss—flavored with nothing but girl.

There is a "becoming length" for everything—bobbed hair, sport-skirts and even spring love-affairs—and a woman's intuition should tell her just where to cut them off, before they make her look ridiculous.

It is getting so that a newly graduated college boy regards a job as having "no future." If the boy's daughter is already married—or if she is painfully plain.

There is no such thing as a "safe-and-sound" romance. Love is always a gloriously dangerous adventure, unless you have a shatter-proof heart, a rainproof imagination and a shock-proof ego.

The Big Problem now bothering most women is whether to let their evening gowns stay as inch or two longer and benefit the textile industries, or to cut them a month or two longer and benefit their husbands' exchequers.

When a man is too lazy to endure the high-pressure emotions of real love or to face the burdens of marriage, he merely plays around with a lot of little imitation loves and calls it "living his own life."

The girl who used to raise a "hiss and cry" when a man kissed her, now has a daughter who carries the "hiss" ready-made, in her vanity case and saves the "cry" until he forgets to kiss her.

A man never lies to any woman from choice, but does so from necessity—the necessity of having to answer all her questions without telling her anything.

You may say what you please against love at first sight—but it saves a marrying-girl lots of time! (Copyright, 1936, by K. P. S. Inc.)

—At Marion's— THEATERS

PICTURE AT PALACE RATES TOP PLACE AS FILM ENTERTAINMENT

One of the excellent picture screen entertainments of the season is the picture "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town."

The feature attraction is the most widely criticized picture of the year, the Capra-directed "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," starring Gary Cooper. Built around the feature is an impressive program of short subjects, headed by a special Will Rogers tribute, with Roy Cobb, Shirley Temple, May Robson, Lowell Thomas and Bing Crosby.

Few motion pictures in the history of the industry have brought such universal acclaim from newspaper and magazine critics as has "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." Few have meted such applause. It is the 1936 contribution of the one-picture-a-year director, Frank Capra. The almost matchless talent of this same megaphone wielder gave the public such well-remembered entertainments as "Lady for a Day," "Roadhouse Bill," and the romantic comedy "It Happened One Night." In his current effort Capra equals his "Lady for a Day," and tops the other mentioned pictures by a considerable margin.

Under Capra's guiding hand Gary Cooper, always before, in this picture is a star who shines not too brightly, emerges as a comedian of the first magnitude.

Jean Arthur, a fast-rising player whose work always has been refreshing, and a well-chosen supporting cast give performances that are virtually flawless. Heading the list of assistants to Cooper and Arthur are Lionel Stander and his buzz-saw voice, George Bancroft, Douglas Dumbrille, Walter Catlett, H. B. Warner and Raymond Walburn.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" came from the talented pen of Clarence Budington Kelland and was prepared for the screen by the equally talented pen of Robert Riskin. Director Capra's faithful associate, Mr. Riskin is responsible for the unusually swift and smooth story progression and let to be credited with the priceless lines read by the actors.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" is the story of a small town boy who inherits $200,000. Prior to this his chief interests in life have been playing the tub in the town band, running a small business and gorging himself with home cooked victuals. His first thought when he is informed of the inheritance and learns he is to move into a New York mansion is that he will get to see Grant's tomb and the statue of liberty. His eccentric (to New York) living in the city forms the background for some of the loudest and longest laughs that ever echoed through a theater. "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" is something to cheer about—a picture that should not be missed.—G. H. McE

MARION BOATS SHOW UP WELL IN RACES

Three Outboard Entrants from Here in Dedication Regatta at Lake White.

Three Marion outboard motorboat racing drivers participated in the dedication regatta at Lake White, near Chicago, yesterday. Although they failed to place in the money, the Marion boats made a good showing among the entrants from Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

In the class B event, Pat Decker and Fred Hughes placed fourth and fifth, respectively.

Alden Harrold, at the wheel of a newly constructed class C outfit, finished in fourth place. In the class F open division, Harrold, who got away to a bad start, finished in fifth position. The races, over a three and a half mile circular course, were witnessed by a crowd estimated at more than 20,000.

A motor of his own design and construction was used on the class C racing hull driven by Harrold. Racing drivers here were enthusiastic over the motor's performance and explained the fact that the boat failed to place by bad breaks which the driver encountered.

In no class C event, Harrold was lapped on the first turn and forced into fourth place, after which he was unable to better his position. In class F open division, forward seaver of Ft. Wayne, Ind., held command during most of the race with a class F boat faster and larger than Harrold's class C outfit.

Fair Board Report Shows Good Financial Condition

Books Closed After 1935 Exposition With Balance of $125.79; Debt Cut to Low Figure.

Financial condition of the Marion county fair is perhaps more healthy than it has been in the recent history of the county agricultural society.

The fair board closed its books at year with a balance of $125.79 against which the only lien was a $366 overdraft. So far as debt is concerned the board owes only $7.

When the board last year paid its premiums in full and entered up $1,268.01 in bills and an overdraft carried over from 1934, the idea of the cost of staging the annual county fair may be obtained from the 1935 financial statement which lists expenditures totaling $10,857.43.

Despite the healthy condition of the financial statement the fair is not self-supporting. Fair board of funds point out it is not supposed to be self-supporting; the law making provision for levy of taxes to keep it going in the interests of promoting agriculture.

In 1935 the fair board received a total of $7,400 from the county treasury and by officials to be minimum tax contribution required by law. Of this, $1,500 went for general fair purposes, $800 was authorized by the state and paid by the county and $500 was set aside for a club work which was used in the junior fair department. The fair board matched the latter figure with $500 to give the junior fair a $1,000 program.

Other receipts for the year included $3,320.25 in gate admissions, concession fees $1,575, grandstand admissions $1,340, race entry fees $408.60, rent of space on the grounds to commercial exhibitors $356.25, exhibit entry fees $325.02, membership fee $137.50, exhibitors tickets, $8.50, rent of grounds for other than fair purposes $100.

Expenditures for the year were headed by a $2,182.79 item for horse race premiums. Other expenses included $2,148.75 for exhibit premiums, $1,290.86 for free entertainment, $986.46 for junior fair premiums, $446 miscellaneous expenses, $386.45 for labor, $350 salary of secretary, $292.22 for advertising, printing, stationery and supplies, $277 for loans for drilling well and setting up water system for the grounds, police and watchmen, $153, rent of tents, $136, ticket sellers and takers, $126, judges, $80.30, music, $75, newspaper advertising, $70, electricity $102.90, expense of members directors and superintendents $50.96.

salary of treasurer, $50, salary of caretaker $50, repairs and replacements $45.05, interest on loans $14.16, postage, $12.

These items plus $1,268.01 paid in accounts and an overdraft carried over from 1934 and a cash balance of $125.79 make up the remainder of the financial statement account of expenditures for the year.

MONTH'S RECORD SET BY HOLSTEIN

WAPAKONETA, O., May 25.—By producing 2,103 pounds of milk containing 73.6 pounds of butter fat, a registered Holstein cow owned by S. W. Brackney, of Duchouquet township, holds the record for April in Auglaize County. Dairy Herd Improvement association Leonard Henschen, official tester for the association, said the Brackney entry was the highest of the group examined.

The Brackney farm also won another divisional title during the month with a herd of 15 cows averaging 35 pounds of fat per cow.

This was the highest mark in herds of 15 or over in 11 days, of Shelby county, where herd of nine Jerseys averaged 40 pounds of butterfat each, holds the record for herds of less than 15.

Federal Farm Loan Plan Offers Many Advantages

Convenient Financing Facilities Available at Branch Offices Operating in Marion

When a farmer needs to borrow money he usually needs to borrow it for a longer time than a business man. Being dependent upon his crops and the livestock produced upon his farm he has to make his payments on his loan depend upon the time when he gets the money in from the sale of his products.

In this age of industrial and commercial developments banks as a general thing cater to commercial accounts. They loan money on 60 and 90 days or perhaps four months and a farmer can not repay usually in less than six months or a year.

One of the greatest developments to take care of the farmer's needs because of this condition has been the Federal Land bank system. The purpose back of the legislation creating federal land banks was to furnish a place where a farmer could go and borrow money on mortgages with long maturities with repayments to be made in small amounts at a reasonable rate of interest. It now is called the farm credit administration and covers not only long time loans but the shorter time loans which are being made to meet emergencies.

Bonds Are Sold

The government bought stock in the federal land banks and thereby furnished a certain amount of the capital with which they began to operate. But the bulk of the money is derived from the sale of federal land bank bonds.

The funds derived from the sale of these bonds are loaned by the federal land banks to farmers and secured by mortgages on their farms.

The money on mortgages is loaned on a spread of 1 per cent higher than the rate of interest the investing public gets on its bonds that is when bonds sell for a rate of 3 1/2 per cent the federal land bank loans money derived therefrom on a basis of 4 1/2 per cent. If the bonds draw 3 per cent the farmer can borrow on a 4 per cent basis.

The loans of the federal land bank are made on applications originally made through farm loan associations. There is a farm loan association in Marion county.

Each farmer who obtains a loan has to take 5 per cent of his loan in stock in the local association.

The local association in turn has the same amount of stock in the federal land bank and this stock is part of the capital upon which the federal land bank operates and the stock held by the borrowers who are members of the local association is pledged as additional collateral security for the repayment of their loans.

When a farmer wants to get a federal land bank loan he therefore has to go to the local association and make an application for a loan. This application sets forth the amount he asks for, it describes his farm and where it is located, and gives a financial statement and a good many details concerning the operation of the farm and what the farm is producing, in the way of crops what the man has in the way of livestock and equipment.

Tells Of Help

It also notes help he has at home to help him farm and what his sources of income are. There is an application fee charged for the purpose of covering the costs of making the appraisal and to report upon the security which he offers.

The federal land bank act permits the bank to loan up to 50 per cent of the appraised value of the land and 20 per cent of the insured value of the permanent improvements.

After the appraisal is made if the loan is granted it is granted upon the condition that the title of the property is good and an abstract of title has to be prepared to prove this. When the abstract is prepared, passed on, and approved a mortgage and note is prepared, signed by the borrower and filed, and the loan is closed.

Whatever the purpose the money must be applied to the purpose for which it was borrowed. These loans are made for different periods of time depending somewhat upon what the borrower wishes and somewhat upon what the association recommends. The loans will vary from 10 to 34 1/2 years.

If a loan is a 20-year loan then it is paid back by making a payment of the interest and a payment of one-twentieth of the principal each year.

Production Credit Loans
In connection with the Federal Land bank there has been organized the Production Credit Corp. of which the Marion County Production Credit association is a part. The association loans money entirely on chattel property. Applications for loans are made in the same manner as mortgages. Loans are made through the federal land bank. They usually are made for the term of one year and the rate of interest is 1 1/2 per cent. Production credit loans are made for a short time period to provide farmers with money to pay debts, purchase machinery, livestock or finance any other legitimate need in connection with farm production purposes.

There are approximately 650 members of the Marion County Production Credit association from Marion, Wyandot, Hardin, Crawford and Morrow counties. Loans outstanding aggregate approximately $400,000 which represents an increase of $74,000 since the first of 1935. Officers of the association are on the second floor of the McNeal-Wolford building on West Main street. J. I. Miller is secretary-treasurer. Other officers are A. M. F. ers of near Meeker president Dale C. McElree of Marion county vice president H. I. Bailey of Crawford county director M. E. Kear of Wyandot county, director, and H. Patrick of Cardington. National Loan Office. The Marion County Farm Loan association headquarters at 115 N. street. Phil Buchman.

This ordinance now in effect provides also that each can or container of canned poultry or canned poultry products shall be plainly marked to show that its contents have been inspected and and what a

SOUNDLY MANAGED

does for him

TO the progressive farmer of today the soundly managed and friendly bank is almost indispensable. To him, as to the farmer and retailer, such a bank extends a multiplicity of services.

CHECKING ACCOUNTS—In order to keep records of receipts and expenditures, a checking account, wherein all receipts are deposited and disbursements made, is most valuable.

BANKING BY MAIL—Often the farmer finds it inconvenient to bring his deposit to the bank—he, therefore mails it, and receives in turn mail an acknowledgment of the deposit to his account. Daily we receive many deposits of this kind.

SAFE DEPOSIT—Due to lack of adequate and fire protection, the farmer requires a deposit box for his bonds, stocks, insurance policies, contracts and other valuables.

LOANS—SEASONAL—Periodically during the year the farmer finds it necessary to borrow money for the purchase of livestock, feeders, seed, payrolls. These loans are liquidated by the sale of crops or livestock.

MORTGAGE—In the purchase of a new home or additional acreage the farmer often finds it advantageous to borrow the money by placing a mortgage on his property.

Soundly managed, and ever friendly to the interests of our community, we cordially invite the farmer's patronage.

FRENCH FARM PLAN TRIED OUT IN OHIO

O. S. U. Extension Service Aids in Developing Strip Cropping Program.

COLUMBUS, May 25 — Ohio farms sometimes may have a resemblance to a French agricultural community where the farms are divided into narrow strips as they are passed along from fathers to sons. The French farms are divided that way to give each heir a share of all the kinds of soil on the farm.

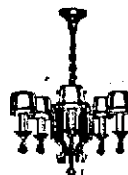

Ohio farms will in many cases be divided into strips so the father will have a farm worth presenting to the heirs. Strip cropping, as recommended for farms on rolling ground, is a plan of alternating strips of rowed crops with strips of meadow or pasture land across the contour of the slopes.

Earl Johnson, extension agronomist, Ohio State university, assists Ohio farmers in mapping out their farms for strip cropping. The alternations of plowed ground with sod land greatly reduces the amount of erosion caused by rain-fall.

Seventy Stark county farmers attended a meeting arranged by Orman R. Keyser, county agent, where strip cropping plans were laid out for the farms of Henry Summers, Sandy township, and

Earl Lautzenheiser, Pike township. The croppings plans made for these two men by Mr. Jones will enable the 70 men who attended the meeting to decide whether similar plans will be profitable on their own farms. Hundreds of Ohio farmers are planning to adopt strip cropping or have used the practice in the past year or two. Crops can be rotated with this plan the same as when fields are plowed and worked parallel with the road or fence lines. Crop yields are increased because the fertile top soil is prevented from washing away.

EARLY PASTURAGE WARNING SOUNDED

ST. REGIS Mich May 25—One of the commonest faults of farmers in general is turning the stock out on pasture too early in the spring, says a Michigan livestock report.

There is a strong temptation to turn out the first few warm days especially if the supply of stored feed is running low. The first few days growth in the spring is made on food stored in the roots in the fall. If this is eaten off before it has a chance to manufacture more food then that stored in the roots is drawn upon until it is exhausted and the plant dies.

The early growth in the spring is made up largely of water and low in food value. A high producing cow cannot gather the feed from the extreme pasture to maintain her body without drawing on body stores. If it is desired to turn a cow out to early pasture in rye or vetch should be sown the corn stubble in the fall of the year. This will be ready a week before the regular pasture is and will give the pasture a good chance to get started. If this is not practical better to continue to feed a little longer even if necessary to buy feed.

KIWANIS CLUB PET LAMB SHOW GAINS POPULARITY

Plans Under Way for Second Fair Feature Under Direction of John H. Clark.

The annual Kiwanis club pet lamb show an idea that originated at the Marion Kiwanis club is spreading to other clubs and will be one of the highlights of the eighty-sixth annual Marion county fair Sept. 22-26, inclusive.

John H. Clark, chairman of the club committee in charge of the show, said interest already being shown in the show indicates it will be as large this year as the one held last year.

The show will be held at noon on Thursday of the fair and the club will serve its weekly luncheon on the grounds and entertain as usual the boys and girls show.

Plans for the show were discussed by Mr. Clark and the club members and girls in the club room on Monday afternoon. Mr. Clark urged all interested parties to bring an entry blank and to have the vocational teachers in the central schools and file it with him by June 15.

All entering lambs must be under 12 years of age on Feb. 1, 1935 and the lamb entered must have been born after Feb. 1, 1935. The child must be the absolute owner of the lamb.

The child's ability to train the lamb to lead or follow will enter into the judging. Seventy per cent will be allowed for the quality of the lamb and 30 per cent for the training. A representative of the animal husbandry department of Ohio State university will be the judge.

Separate prizes will be given for male and female lambs. The prizes are $5 first, $4 second, $3 third, $2 fourth and $1 fifth.

Arrangements for the show are being made in cooperation with Ed Bender, superintendent of the junior fair.

Mr. Clark said he has been informed that pet lamb shows have been recommended to other county fairs on the strength of the popularity of the first one at the Marion county fair last year. Twenty-two lambs were shown last year and several hundred persons saw the boys and girls give demonstrations of how well their lambs had been trained.

The show, Mr. Clark said, gives children an opportunity to meet business and professional men of the city. He also expressed the belief that the training of a pet has a good effect on the child, giving those who enter lambs the definite responsibility of training it and caring for it.

MICHIGAN TO STAGE FOREST CELEBRATION

July Festival To Mark Move Toward Rebuilding Woodlands.

By The Associated Press.

MANISTEE Mich., May 25.—The Manistee national forest, more than 100,000 acres dedicated to the task of recapturing Michigan's place among the leading timber states, is going to get the biggest send-off of its history this summer.

Aware of the importance of the forest which state and federal conservationists are carrying on in Michigan as well as the value of the forest as a tourist attraction, the citizens of Manistee and other communities have organized for a national forest festival July 25. This festival will have the dual purpose of restoring the forest of Michigan and pointing ahead to the new Michigan which is being built.

Indians Have Part

Indian business men, conservationist, resort groups and several federal agencies are participating in the festival which will have a fourfold significance. The program which is nearing completion will attempt to illustrate:

1.—The period before the original forest of west Michigan fell before the woodman's ax and the Indian life which existed then.

2.—The decade between 1865 and 1875 when lumbering was at its height, and the inevitable Paul Bunyan legends of those days.

3.—The desolation which existed after the forest had been leveled and before the conservationists arrived on the scene.

4.—The rebuilding of the forest lands.

Pageants Authentic

No pains are being spared to make this festival authentic. For several weeks workers of the national youth administration have been erecting real Indian wigwams near the Manistee river where 10 Indian families descendants of the once powerful Ottawa, will live during the festival. Other groups have been designing and making period costumes which will be worn by residents of Manistee in pageants depicting various phases of western Michigan history.

The Indians will take a prominent part in the festival programs. Princess Wabisheshikwe, a full-blooded Ottawa squaw, and Chief Ke-Wag-Ewan will have charge of their people in the programs. There will be authentic Indian dances and ceremonies incident to the signing of treaties with the first white men who came to this region.

START COTTON CROPS

MANILA.—The Philippine commonwealth bureau of plant industry, which has been selling cotton seed to farmers, says it expects a boom in this crop this year, especially in Cebu and Bohol where the plant thrives. Home grown cotton is bought by the bureau's cotton mill and made into cloth.

Hybrid Corn Tests Make Good Showing in Indiana

LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 25 — The most extensive demonstrations of corn varieties ever attempted in Indiana will be conducted in 50 counties this year by the agronomy extension department of Purdue university in co-operation with the county agents and corn growers, according to plans outlined here today.

In each of the 52 different demonstrations now being established, local varieties of corn will be compared with new and promising hybrid strains of corn developed by plant breeders of the U. S. department of agriculture working in co-operation with the Purdue agricultural experiment station.

In a large number of similar trials carried on in Indiana last year, the Hoosier Hybrid, developed at Purdue, outyielded the best open pollinated local varieties by 10 to 20 per cent. The Hoosier Hybrid has shown during the past season that it will stand up much better than open pollinated varieties, beats its ears at a more uniform and desirable height for husking, and that it will produce corn of fine quality for feeding livestock or to market as cash grain. Several hundred bushels of Hoosier Hybrid seed corn were produced in the state last year. Most of this seed has been purchased by Indiana farmers, many of whom are buying small amounts to compare with their own corn.

In the demonstration this year, 14 hybrid strains are being tested, many of them for the first time. These hybrids are all known as double or four way crosses, indicating that they have been made by using four inbred lines. These inbred lines have been maintained and the single crosses made by the Purdue experiment station. Hybrids for the three regions of the state, northern, central and southern, are designated by numbers which indicate the part of the state to which they are adapted. Hybrids for northern Indiana, of which four are being tried, carry numbers between 100 and 400; for central Indiana 500 to 800, of which six are being tested, and for southern Indiana, 800 to 1,000, of which four are being tested. The hybrids of the 400 series are known as Hoosier Hybrid.

Farmers in counties carrying these demonstrations are urged to follow them up during the season in order to study the good and poor qualities of the different strains of corn.

The demonstrations will be concluded by holding a county-wide field meeting at which time the yields will be checked, the results discussed, and farmers can see for themselves the actual performance of the different varieties as to maturity, quality, ability to stand up, etc.

RIDERS COMING BACK

BRYAN, O., May 25 — Henry Taylor purchased four riding horses at the annual spring sale at Lexington recently. Riding horses are increasing in popularity around Bryan with 11 horses quartered at the barns of the Horse Breeders association.

PROUD OF TWINS

WAPAKONETA, O., May 25 — Twin colts have arrived at the farm of Fred L. Seltz, four miles south of Wapakoneta. The colts are large and healthy animals and are the source of much pride by the owner. Twin colts are said by horsemen to be exceedingly rare, and seldom do both survive.

MORE SOY BEANS

Production of soy beans in the United States has increased a hundred times over in less than 30 years. Acreage given over to the cultivation of the bean has increased from 50,000 to 5,000,000 in the same period of time.

TAXES BELOW COSTS

Tax receipts in many of the poor farming sections of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri fail to meet the cost of road maintenance, schools, and other public service which must be given families existing in these sections. Settlement administration figures show.

Predicts Nearly Five Million Will Participate in New Soil Program.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 25.—Secretary Wallace recently gave out estimates by AAA regional directors that 1,500,000 to 5,000,000 farmers would participate in the new soil conservation program as compared with 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 who had the old crop adjustment acts in a single year.

Wallace in presenting the estimates at his press conference, said, however, he believed his assistants were over optimistic. He said his own estimates would be about 4,000,000 less.

He added if the preliminary reports were accurate and the weather conditions normal, production of all major cash crops except corn should be about the same as in 1935, when production control outlawed by the supreme court was in effect.

The soil conservation program should have a much greater appeal than the AAA, particularly in the eastern states, Wallace said, but he added that he could not understand the large increase in participation as indicated by the survey.

The regional directors' report predicted that 75 per cent of farmers raising food and feed crops would participate. This would include corn, wheat, rye and other grain crops.

The report indicated, Wallace said, that farmers raising food and feed crops would have about 26,000,000 acres for harvest, and would divert about 19,000,000 acres to soil conserving crops.

The acreage for harvest, he said, would be slightly larger than that last year when the average yield per acre was about 10 per cent below normal.

If yields are normal this year, Wallace said, the food and feed crop harvest would be slightly more than 10 per cent above that of 1935.

He said he has discovered the fact that since 1926 and has found a new process for

PLOWING POTATOES ONCE OFTEN ENOUGH

Weed Control Sole Reason for Frequent Cultivation; Three-Year Test Provides Proof.

If weed control in potatoes is not a major problem, the extra work of more than one good, deep cultivation probably will not pay. In a three-year test by the United States department of agriculture at Presque Isle, Maine, one-cultivation potatoes yielded slightly more on the average than potatoes cultivated five times.

In both cases there was a light cultivation two weeks after the potatoes were planted and before they were up. The one-cultivation potatoes were ridged well. The potatoes cultivated five times were moderately ridged. Both plots were handhoed once to kill weeds.

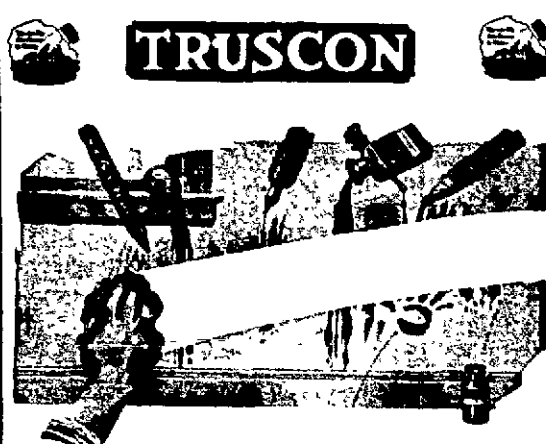

When cultivation is necessary to control weeds, it should be shallow. Deep cultivation prunes the potato roots and the freshly-tilled soil loses moisture. These cultivation experiments were on fall-plowed sod land fitted in the spring for a good seed bed.

Up to 10 or 15 years ago, farmers and crop specialists believed that row crop tillage aerated the soil, conserved moisture, increased availability of plant food in the soil and suppressed weed growth. Other studies besides those on potatoes indicate the fallacy of some of the supposed benefits from frequent tillage.

Elusive Delaware County Horse and Buggy Found

The old bay mare and the black buckboard buggy trimmed in red that have been eluding police of Ohio since May 11 when the equipment was stolen from Delaware county, have been found, but the traveling salesman who drove off with them is still at large.

Police in Marion and every other city of Ohio have been on the lookout for the will-o'-the-wisp horse and buggy for two weeks, but always the gay 50's equipage eluded the motorized equipment and the modern detectives.

A sleuthing Toledo horse-and-buggy squad Friday found the horse contentedly munching oats in a barn, according to a news report from that city.

R. J. Willey of Sunbury in Delaware county, sales manager for the Wrought Iron Stove Co. of St. Louis, started Toledo police out of the proverbial hundred-year-old growth when he and a companion told of having traveled more than 1,000 miles by automobile in pursuit of the salesman and the horse and buggy.

Between May 11 and May 13, when the horse and buggy were bought by James Dusha of Toledo, the salesman had traveled 250 miles of side roads, working slowly northward towards Toledo, which by direct route is 96 miles from Delaware.

Mr. Willey said the salesman spent the night of May 13 in Perryburg and tried to sell the horse and buggy there.

Mr. Dusha, in whose barn the old bay mare and buggy were found, said he had purchased the mare, together with the buggy and all harness for $40 on May 15. A miniature stove mounted on the dashboard to advertise the stove company, was missing when the purchase was made, Mr. Dusha said.

Toledo police and police in northern Ohio are continuing their search for the elusive salesman-driver.

smoothest EIGHT in the world

Reserve all judgments of eight performance until you drive this car

AFTER ALL, the smoothest eight is the eight you want to buy. So make no decision until you drive the Pontiac. For this is the eight with built-in smoothness. In fact, Pontiac's powerful engine has no vibration point at any speed—due to incredibly accurate balance of rotating parts, a rigid, short-stroke crankshaft with overlapping bearings, and the harmonic balancer introduced by Pontiac. Yes, you'll learn about smoothness from the Pontiac Eight—and that's not all! The fast, sure action of Pontiac's big, triple-scaled, hydraulic brakes will be another revelation. So will the comfort of the spacious "Turret-Top" Fisher Bodies. And when you count the cost of owning the smoothest eight, you get another surprise! Under official supervision, the Pontiac Eight has delivered 22 miles to the gallon. And you can buy it for about the price of many sizes! These are the facts. Now test what they mean in greater all-around satisfaction. Drive the Pontiac Eight for just ten minutes. That's enough to prove, once and for all, that your search for super-smoothness is over.

AID SUGGESTED FOR SEED GERMINATION

Tough Outlines Often Delay Moisture Getting Through

The gardener can hasten and increase the percentage of germination of many of his flower seeds by cutting a nick in the tough seed coat.

Many seed coats are so tough that they hinder penetration of moisture to the interior of the seed, thus delaying germination.

Seeds of the following flowers will be aided by this treatment: Canna lily, all types of morning glory, perennial and annual sweet peas, lupin and moon flower.

CAREFUL TREATMENT URGED FOR CABBAGE

Should Be Soaked In Hot Water, Experts Advise

"If your cabbage looks yellow, stunted, and sickly next fall, don't blame the weather, blame yourself," says Dr. P. P. Pirone of the New York State College of Agriculture who points out that a field of cabbage can be no better than the seed which produces it.

"Cabbage seed which has not been treated with hot water may produce plants affected with several destructive diseases. Among these are blight, black rot, black leg and lent spot. Hot water seed treatment kills these disease-producing germs and insures a healthy start.

Harness Race Program for Fair Is Enlarged

Two and Three-Year-Old Colt Trot New Feature of Speed Entertainment This Fall.

Harness race lovers who attend the Marion county fair Sept. 22-26, inclusive, will see an enlarged three-day race meet that will include for the first time a program of two-year-old and three-year-old trot and pace stakes sponsored by the Ohio Colt Racing Association.

The fair board this year affiliated with the association on a basis whereby it will pay $300 for four harness race events. The horsemen, through their contributions to the state association, will make up the remainder of the stakes which are estimated to amount to $100 for each event.

Entries in the colt races have been handled entirely by the association, and the entry deadline for these events was last April 29.

Three Days of Racing

Through the addition of the colt races, the fair race program will consist of three events Wednesday, four on Thursday and three on Friday of fair week, Secretary J. Aultman Raub said.

In view of the fact many stable owners having colts have older horses, it is expected by fair officials that affiliation with the colt association will increase the number of older horses entered in other race events here. The owners, they explained, probably will send their older horses along with the colts.

The exact amount of the stakes for the colt races is dependent on the contributions horsemen make through the state association, but fair officials said they feel confident the stake for each race will amount to $100.

Complete Race Program

The complete race program for the three days follows: Wednesday — two-year-old trot for stake estimated to be worth $400; 2:21 pace, $250; 2:21 trot, $250.

Thursday — three-year-old trot for stake estimated to be worth $400; 2:14 pace, $300; two-year-old pace for stake estimated to be worth $400; 2:15 trot, $300.

Friday — three-year-old pace for stake estimated to be worth $400; 2:19 trot, $250; 2:18 pace, $250.

Secretary Raub said he has been notified by the colt association that 32 horses are entered for the three-year-old trot, 21 for the three-year-old pace, 29 for the two-year-old trot and 31 for the two-year-old pace.

Approximately 100 horses are expected to be on the grounds during fair week.

ARGENTINE EXPORTS GAIN

BUENOS AIRES — Last year was Argentina's best for exports since 1929. The total was $440,000,000 compared with $110,000,000 in 1931. Grain and linseed accounted for the increase.

GIVES INSTRUCTION ON TREE PLANTING

County Agent Tells Requirements of Soils Act

CONVOY, O., May 25—Minimum requirements to qualify for payments under the soils conservation act for trees call for the planting of at least 1,000 to the acre 650 which should still be growing harvest time, V. R. Phares, V. West county agent, pointed out.

It is now too late to plant this spring but this work can be done in the fall and in the spring of 1937, Mr. Phares said. Numerous inquiries are now coming into the agricultural office concerning tree planting under the soils conservation act and Mr. Phares is advising that applications be made for reservation of plants at this time.

The earlier tree orders are for the better chances therefor for curing them from the state nursery in the fall and spring said.

In the case of windbreaks shelter belts planted in small areas or strips and not to exceed an acre the number of trees per acre must be at least 450 under the conservation act, Mr. Phares said.

New Air-Cooled ELECTROLUX THE SERVEL Gas Refrigerator

To 2000 Electrolux owners, living in 43 cities and towns served by The Gas Company, we sent a letter asking each how much he would estimate the operating cost of his gas refrigerator to be per month. These people represent a cross section of our many thousands of gas refrigerator customers who make varying demands of service on their refrigerator. Back came the replies on cards like the one pictured above. Many said they could not estimate the cost of gas refrigeration because they noticed no difference in their gas bills. But hundreds of these owners did give us an estimate. The average of these was 57.5 cents per month — LESS THAN 2 CENTS A DAY! Why not this lowest cost refrigeration for your home? It is safe and silent — has no moving parts to wear out. It's the gas refrigerator that HEADS THE PARADE FOR '36.

PRESERVE MOISTURE IN CUTTING FLOWERS

Wilted Caused by Failure of Stems To Carry Supply of Water.

WOOSTER, O., May 23 — The wilting of cut flowers is due to their inability to maintain a sufficient supply of water through the stems to keep pace with evaporation through the foliage and the flowers. At ordinary temperature bacteria multiply rapidly in the water, attack the tissues of the stems, clog the conducting vessels, and prevent free ascent of the moisture to the flowers and foliage above. Various means have been tried to counteract this action of bacteria.

Cut flowers early in the morning or late in the day when the stems are turgid.

Use a sharp knife in preference to shears. The sharper the cut the less is the bruising of the conducting vessels and the greater the absorption of water.

Plunge the stems deeply in water up to the base of the flowers. All arranging should be postponed until after the stems have been thoroughly soaked.

The proper stage of development should be selected. Gladioli are best for cutting when the first flower is open; peonies, when the petals are unfolding; roses, before the buds open; dahlias, when fully open; poppies, the day before they open.

Keep the flowers in a humid room and never in sunshine. This reduces the evaporation to a minimum.

Flowers keep well at 45 degrees

F. If they are kept cooler than that during the night, the lasting quality is improved.

Use containers which permit free entrance of air through the top. For this reason narrow-necked vases should be avoided.

Cut stems and change water daily. Make a slanting cut to prevent the ends from resting squarely on the bottom.

All leaves which are submerged should be removed to prevent their decomposition and the fouling of the water. This is particularly important with many of the outdoor flowers, such as asters or zinnias.

Silt stems of woody plants and peel the bark back to a distance of one inch at least. Chrysanthemums, lilacs, azaleas and the like are benefited by this treatment.

Poinsettias, poppies, heliotrope, dahlias, and mignonette will last much longer if a hot water treatment is applied. The stems are immersed in boiling water for a minute and then plunged in cold water. This seals the ends of the conducting vessels, prevents downward flow of the sap, and permits absorption of water through the outer surface of the stems. Precaution must be taken to keep steam from the flowers or they will turn brown.

Wilted flowers may be revived by cutting their stems short, plunging them deep in water, and storing in a cool dark place for 10 hours or more.

Association Provides Proof of Johnny Appleseed Record

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, May 25.—Johnny Appleseed's followers claimed new evidence recently that the barefoot wanderer really lived.

It was uncovered by the Johnny Appleseed Memorial commission of Fort Wayne, Ind., which has long maintained Johnny was John Chapman who died there in 1845.

In stories and poetry, Johnny Appleseed is usually pictured as a "little eccentric, garbed in a coffee sack and toying off his cane with a new pan for a hat. Some historians say he wore a hat on top the straw pan, carrying Swedenborgian books in it, and from these religious tracts offering the settlers "news fresh from heaven."

The ground on which he roamed the wilderness was to plant his beloved apple seeds. At intervals in recent years controversies have flared up over whether, as his admirers claim, Johnny Appleseed can be credited with fathering most of the midwestern orchards.

The new evidence, said Secretary Robert C. Harris of the Fort Wayne Association, is an order, dated Aug. 1, 1818, asking Martin Mason to give Glenn Rice 34 apple trees, and Harris believes it was drawn up after a sale, proving Johnny was not only a wandering apple missionary but also a dealer in apple trees.

He said the association had ample evidence that Chapman was Johnny Appleseed, and called the order the "only document ever discovered in Johnny Appleseed's own handwriting."

Harris obtained the order from Mrs. Grace L. W. Culler of Shiloh, O. Johnny Appleseed made his home, during an interval in his wandering, with Mrs. Culler's great, great-grandfather at Perryville, O., the secretary explained.

The Fort Wayne association's collection of Johnny Appleseed data showed he died there a man of some substance. His estate included two tracts of apple trees totaling 17,000.

LOCUSTS EXPECTED IN SOUTHERN OHIO

By International News Service
CINCINNATI, O., May 25.—Periodical cicadas, popularly known as the 17-year locust, is expected to plague this part of the state between May 27 and June 5.

The prediction came from Ralph Dury, director of the Cincinnati Society of Natural History, who reports that the insects will remain between a week and nine days.

Their life span is short, lasting only a few days, during which time they cause heavy damage to trees.

Methods for Improving Livestock Breeds Studied

Improvements of farm livestock by fixing or eliminating inherited characters logically includes inbreeding and outbreeding. Both are well known to breeders and have been used spasmodically for years, but the genetic principles on which they are based never have been well understood, say livestock specialists in the United States department of agriculture. These principles are discussed in the forthcoming issue of the department yearbook.

Inbreeding is the mating of closely related individuals, such as brother and sister, father and daughter. It is a two edged sword which many breeders fear. While it is a way of rapidly intensifying and fixing desirable characters, it is just as likely to emphasize undesirable characters.

"Pure families" within a breed may produce a much sought after strain such as Anxiety 4th Herefords or Dates "Pure Duchesne" Shortorns or Earl Marshall Aberdeen-Angus—or they may result in failure.

Need Outside Aid

This is why practical breeders dislike going very far with inbreeding and why any worthwhile experimental program, which must run many years should be carried out by the government, other institutions, or by foundations established by men of wealth.

Inbreeding brings out defects rapidly in whole families, which may then be discarded. It is a sort of truth detector or sounding apparatus to discover what lies beneath the surface.

When intensive inbreeding produces defectives faster than they can be discarded, the breeder resorts to occasional outbreeding.

Outbreeding—crosses of unrelated inbred families—may result in offspring with desirable traits such as vigor and productiveness not only above that of the parents, but even above that of other animals of the breed.

Losses Wiped Out

At one stroke previous losses are wiped out with a net gain besides.

Students of genetics know what happens, even though the factors cannot be identified. Essentially outbreeding breaks up fixed, undesirable factors with factors from another strain which may even have undesirable characters.

It is not a case of two bads making a good, but a case of two goods which did not have a chance, supplementing one an-

Forest Glen Park Serves The Whole North Central Ohio Community

• Forest Glen is the only Modern Memorial Burial Estate serving the large area within a radius of thirty to forty miles of its location.

• Forest Glen is completely democratic in its character and operation,—elimination of tombstone and the distribution of principal interest points over the estate establishes all burial sections on a basis virtually equal desirability.

• Forest Glen is reasonable in cost to the section owner from every angle,—burial sections are reasonable and the purchase price includes free use of the complete facilities of the estate, Cathedral Home, Chime Tower, grave tent and equipment, grave opening and closing costs are commensurate with the work involved, and the cost of the uniform grave identification bronze is but a minute fraction of the investment required for acceptable monuments.

• Forest Glen's beauty will be preserved for all time.—a portion of all income is set in an endowment fund, the income from which will be more than adequate for the maintenance and upkeep of the entire property,—there will be no future assessments, or levies or any other arrangements to meet upkeep costs,—when the true test of an Endowment Fund comes, that inevitable day when there are no more sections to sell, no income from the opening and closing of graves, the Endowment Fund of Forest Glen will be adequate to the test, its income will care for the estate in handsome fashion.

• Forest Glen is undoubtedly the place you and your family prefer to be buried. Why not make your selection of a section now. You can do it unhurriedly and with full benefit of your loved ones' wishes,—so much better than waiting until you must choose while a dear one lies in death.

SIMPLE FOODS BEST FOR TOURIST MENUS

Operators Make Mistake Trying To Imitate City Restaurants

Operators of tourist homes in the country are making a mistake if they try to imitate the meals served in city restaurants or hotels because the tourist would drive on to the next town if he wanted that kind of food.

The dishes that most city residents associate with the farm are chicken, ham, eggs, fresh vegetables and dairy products; and nutrition specialists at Ohio State university say that the rural hostess will please her paying guests if she specializes on these foods.

The fact that there is little profit in serving meals unless a large part of the food is produced on the farm ought to limit the hostess in her choice. Eggs in all forms can be prepared quickly and they can be associated with ham in one of the most popular dishes on any menu.

Road Builders Use Sound Waves To Locate Rock

By precise timing of sound waves passing through earth and rock, engineers of the bureau of public roads have developed practical field methods for determining the distance below the ground surface to hard rock. These engineers have perfected an instrument by which measurements can now be made on the surface with apparatus that will indicate within a few feet how far below the surface rock will be found.

Engineers need such information in planning bridges, buildings, estimating the cost of grading for highways and for other purposes. The measuring instrument is a highly-sensitive electrical device known as a seismograph. The method saves the time and expense of drilling to find out how deep the rock lies.

Accurate results are obtained by measuring the speed with which an impulse from the explosion of a buried blasting cap or small charge of dynamite travels through the ground. Such an impulse will travel through soil at a speed of 1,000 to 6,000 feet per second but the speed through rock is 16,000 to 20,000 feet per second.

A cap is exploded in the ground and at the same time the electric current exploding the cap causes a record to be made with precise apparatus for measuring time. Special detectors are placed at different distances from the explosion and pick up the impulse as it comes through the ground. The detectors are connected electrically with the time-recording device and the time of travel of the impulse from the explosion can be measured to a small fraction of a second.

FEDERAL LOAN PLAN OFFERS ADVANTAGES

tary-treasurer. The association has more than 300 members and there are loans outstanding that total approximately $1,142,000. The association is part of the fourth district of the Federal Land bank, comprising the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. The district bank is located at Louisville, Ky.

Offices for land bank commissioner loans also are located at 115 North Main street. Commissioner loans are made by the Federal Land bank and National Farm Loan association as agents for the land bank commissioner. National Farm Loan associations endorse all Federal Land bank loans and guarantee their repayment. Commissioner loans carry no indorsement of association or bank. When the same security is covered by both land bank and commissioner loans, the latter is secured by second mortgage. All land bank loans are secured by first mortgage. Money for land bank loans comes from investors who buy federal land bank bonds. There are now 170 outstanding commissioner loans in Marion county aggregating approximately $340,000.

It may be seen that agricultural credit requirements are much better taken care of today than formerly. There are sources from which those eligible for credit can now obtain loans for nearly any need at a reasonable rate of interest.

FARM BUREAU TO MEET

CHICAGO — The 18th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau federation will be held Dec. 9, 10, and 11 in Pasadena, Calif.

BULLETIN BOARD AIDS FARM TRADE

A unique free service for the benefit of farmers has been inaugurated by V. R. Phares, Van Wert county agent.

A 4x6 foot blackboard has been erected in the basement of the county courthouse and has been divided into for sale and wanted sections.

A farmer having livestock or any other farm article for sale notifies Mr. Phares who posts it on the board. Wanted articles are listed in the other section.

A large volume of business is done through the medium of the board. Mr. Phares reports.

REPORT ACTIVITY IN FARM FENCING

MARYSVILLE, O., May 25 — Farm implement dealers report a great increase in the sale this spring of fencing and posts. This demand, they say, is general in southwestern Ohio and is the result chiefly of the late, wet spring which has given farmers ample time to do refencing while awaiting favorable weather for plowing and planting.

Reports of the dealers indicate an even demand for the wooden posts and the steel posts. Many loads of locust posts have been brought to this section by farmers of southern Ohio, who truck about 400 to a load.

Farmers who favor the locust and cedar posts explain that the wooden posts make a stronger fence and have been known to last for 30 years. Those who favor the steel post prefer it because it can be driven into the ground so easily, that it is a protection to stock against lightning, and because fence rows may be burned without injuring the posts.

Your Health

BY DR. E. S. COPELAND

Prostatic Disease

According to latest statistics a disease which affects approximately one out of all men over 50 years of age is the prostate gland. Unfortunately, the prostate is often neglected leading to serious disorders and complications.

Many men delay consulting the doctor because they fear the disease is a rare one. Let me assure you that it is not a rare disease. Let me assure you that it is not a dangerous or as serious as it is often thought to be.

Few other operations are so often performed as this. The operation has been brought about in the past decade or so.

Put what is prostate? The prostate, the medical name for the enlarged prostate and how does it work? To understand the matter, let us take a look at the anatomy of the prostate gland. Located at the neck of the urinary bladder, the prostate is the size of a walnut.

Though the actual function of the prostate is not known, its enlargement is believed to be associated with a disturbance in the secretory function of the gland.

The gland increases in size as middle age is approached. This enlargement is gradual but may ultimately lead to certain discomforts. For example, there may be some obstruction to the normal outflow of urine from the bladder.

This trouble may occur before 50 years of age but usually happens after this. Some men never suffer from this affliction while others notice it at an early age. The trouble of this enlargement is not known.

The danger of prostatic hypertrophy is not associated with the possibility of operation but in the neglect of the ailment. To pay no attention to it may result in damage to the circulation heart and kidneys. When these vital organs are involved serious symptoms may develop.

Diet and simple medication may be sufficient to prevent further enlargement. Special treatments such as massage or diathermy are of ten beneficial. Of course the treatment must be outlined by your doctor who can only determine what will be most beneficial after a complete examination. Do not neglect this disorder.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelopes with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper.

Cotton's Place As Major Southern Crop Threatened

ST. LOUIS, May 25—King cotton may have to take a new place as the principal money crop in the South, according to the Mason-Dixon line. The reason may be found in a new study of 1936 prominent scientists, farmers and industrialists. They say their second annual survey shows that the cotton industry is in a state of transition.

Dr. Charles H. Herty, president of the research director of the pulp and paper laboratory, announced the eventual disappearance of King Cotton. He said that the business and membership of the cotton industry has grown to 1,600—nearly here under the theme that industry and not plowing is the future. Henry Ford, the farm crops of the conference, said that the idea catches the eye of the farmer and industry. He said that the idea catches the eye of the farmer and industry. fabricated secondary or rural roads. Acreage in Texas once used for cotton now is being converted to tung oil tree orchards for oil for paints and varnishes—another new industry south of the Mason-Dixon line. But it does mean, cotton is dying as king in the south, he insists.

NEW SHEEP DIPPING RULE NOW IN FORCE

Regulations On Auctions In Effect Since March 30

Effective March 30, 1936, all regulations pertaining to licensed auctions are being enforced. It was announced by Earl H. Hanefeld, state director of agriculture, recently. A law to prevent the spread of diseases of livestock passed by the legislature last year gives the Ohio department of agriculture control over individuals and organizations engaged in the buying, receiving, selling or otherwise dealing in livestock.

On Dec. 5, the operators of 81 community sales covering 60 counties were informed by Dr. A. F. Zimmer, state veterinarian, that during the extreme cold weather sheep could be moved from licensed premises without dipping, provided that they did not show visible evidence of sheep scab. Under the regulations effective March 30, it is necessary to dip all sheep offered for sale or quartered at those auctions before they will be permitted to return to Ohio farms.

BUTTERFAT TESTED

Six Dairy Herd Associations Of Kentucky Average 303 Lbs.

The six dairy herd improvement associations in Kentucky made an average production of 303 pounds of butterfat per cow last year, according to the annual reports of the association, summarized at the college of agriculture, University of Kentucky. Ninety-eight herds containing 2,801 cows were tested.

Fairgrounds in Splend Condition for This Year

General Overhauling as Federal Works Project Put Grounds in Good Trim.

Marion county fair officials are busy getting the 47-acre fairgrounds in condition for the 1936 fair. The job will not be a difficult one because the grounds already are perhaps in the best condition they have been for many years.

The 21 buildings and the grounds were improved in 1934 in an $8,500 program made possible by the CWA, the federal government's first work relief setup, and since that time only minor repairs have been necessary.

At that time the buildings were painted, the race track was reconstructed, fences replaced or repaired and the entire grounds cleaned.

Grand Stand Repainted

The 2,000-seat grandstand, built in 1911, shared in the 1934 improvement program, having been painted and cleaned throughout. The secretary's office during fair week, located under the grandstand, was rebuilt to make it easier for fair officials to handle the rush of details that come with each fair.

Other structures on the ground include the art hall, vegetable hall, poultry building, junior fair building, three cattle barns, five draft horse barns, two sheep barns, three hog barns and six race horse barns.

Despite this large number of buildings, the fair board has been crowded for space to house exhibits at recent fairs, and now is seeking a way to provide one or more additional buildings. Tents have been used in emergencies in past years for some of the displays.

Among the improvements made in 1934 was construction of a cattle barn capable of housing animals. It was made largely wreckage of two old sheds which cattle exhibits formerly were placed.

Art Hall Repaired

Crumbling stucco walls of art hall were replaced by siding, a picket fence was along the Fairground street of the grounds. The race track was covered with asphalt and clay obtained by digging a large ditch around the inside track. A fence around the track was lowered to give spectators a view of harness races.

The band stand in front of grandstand was lowered to prevent it from obstructing view of persons sitting in rows of the grandstand.

The Marion county fairgrounds are almost perfectly flat and is adequate space on the ground for automobile parking. The roomy open spaces for mac displays, the midway of cision stands and mechanical and facilities for housing a number of horses for races.

WILL AID IN PLAN

Farm families receiving term loans under the rural habitation program of the settlement administration assisted by project superintendent and county agricultural in setting up approved farm home management plans.

SAVE ON TIRES

GET NEW TIRE MILEAGE AT 1/2 NEW TIRE COST

HAWKINSON SYSTEM OF RETREADING

● You wouldn't throw away shoes if only the heels were worn down. Yet it's just as wasteful to discard a tire when only the tread is worn off. The largest part of the tire is still good. We can put a new, long wearing tread on it which should run at least seventy-five per cent as far as the original tread.

● Smooth tires are dangerous to ride on. New Hawkenson trends will give you skid safe traction, reduce the hazards of blowouts and punctures and save you money. Hawkenson trends give you tires like new at approximately one half the cost.

● With the famous Hawkenson system, only the new tread is cured. No heat is applied to the sidewalls and shoulders of the tire to overcure it and cause early failure. The identity of your tire is retained.

● It will pay you to investigate this economical method of stretching your tire mileage. Come in and let us inspect your tires, and remember that we guarantee every job we turn out.

Is Added To County Program This Year

Barn Dance To Be Brought Here for Free Entertainment on Saturday.

has been added to the program of the 1938 Marion fair Sept. 22-26, 1938. The program this year runs through Saturday night with an entertainment by the W.S. barn dance from Chicago, which will be held from Cleveland and will be part of the entertainment at the Great Lakes this summer.

On Saturday an important part of the fair program, fair have expressed the belief that this day eventually will be the largest of fair days because of the large number of people who regularly come on Saturday for other reasons and who might attend on that day whereas their presence would prevent them from attending on other days.

Meals have arranged for the fair to be kept on the Saturday. The harness program however, will end on Friday as in the past.

A lot of free attractions for fair visitors this year, will be employed to play between heats of harness races on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. Vaudeville entertainers who will be featured in the night fair programs also will perform for race spectators in the afternoon.

Six acts of vaudeville and fireworks will be presented Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights in front of the grandstand. The barn dance troupe will replace the vaudeville entertainers on Saturday and will present a full-length afternoon program in the place of harness races. The troupe will perform again Saturday night and fireworks will conclude the Saturday night entertainment, Secretary J. Aultman Raub said.

Vaudeville entertainment booked for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights include the four Bentos, an acrobatic troupe, Lady Barbara's circus, a dog and pony show, and Shorty Fleming, a clown. Bands engaged for afternoon performances also will give half-hour concerts before the night fair programs begin.

Entries in most departments of the fair must be in the hands of Secretary Raub or his assistants by noon Monday of the fair week. Entries will be taken until Saturday before the fair at the fair board office on South Main street and on Monday morning at the fairgrounds.

The list of premiums offered for exhibitors this year is virtually the same as last year excepting for slight increases in baked goods awards.

Eligible Exhibitors

Any resident of Marion or adjoining counties in which county fair boards will accept exhibits from this county may enter exhibits this year. This is a slight departure from the previous plan of keeping exhibits open to adjoining counties regardless of the policies of their fair boards. The new arrangement was voted by the board to assure Marion county residents the right to compete for premiums in all counties whose entries are accepted here. The only exception to the adjoining county rule is in the poultry department which is open to the state. A special department of the poultry exhibit will be open only to Marion county residents and separate premiums will be awarded in each department.

Exhibits must be on the fairgrounds not later than Tuesday at 6 p. m. of fair week excepting in special departments where separate rules have been made. They must remain in place throughout Saturday.

In an effort to enlarge membership of the Marion County Agricultural society, whose members elect the fair board, officials have lowered membership prices this year to $1 and with each membership six admission tickets which sell separately at 25 cents each are given. The price formerly was $1.25.

As in the past, admission to the grounds will be 25 cents for each person 11 years or older. No charge will be made to admit automobiles and free parking space will be provided on the grounds.

The fair this year is two weeks later than the 1935 exposition. The date was changed to avoid conflicts with other county fairs in this vicinity. There will be only eight county fairs in Ohio in the week selected by the board for 1936, and of these the closest will be in Logan county.
